Addition of new sections 70A and 70B

8. The principal Act is hereby amended by adding, immediately after section 70, the following new sections: -

"Disposal of trophies, etc during proceeding

70A.-(1) Subject to subsection (2), at any stage of any etc. proceedings under this Act, the court may, of its own motion or on an application made by the prosecution, in that behalf order that any animal trophy, weapon, vehicle, vessel or other article which has been tendered or put in evidence before it and which is subject to speedy decay, destruction or depreciation be placed at the disposal of the Director.

(2) Where the article in respect of which an order under subsection (1) is made is not an animal or trophy, the court may, if it is satisfied that it would be just to do so, attach to the order condition that the director shall " dispose of that article until after the expiration of six months from the date of the making of that order.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of any written law to the contrary, on the expiration of six months from the making of an order under subsection (1) to which the condition under subsection (2) was attached, the order of the court shall be final and shall operate as a bar to any claim by or on behalf of any person claiming ownership of or any interest in the article by virtue of any title arising before the order was made.

Where trophies belong to another person

70B.- (1) Subject to the following provisions of this section, in any proceedings for an offence under this Act, which consists of the unlawful possession of, or unlawfully having in control or custody, any trophy or trophies, any person being prosecuted may, with the leave of the court, have any person to whom the trophy or trophies belong or to whose act or default he alleges that the contravention of the relevant provisions was due brought before the court in the proceedings, and if, after the contravention has been proved, the original accused person proves that the trophy or trophies belong to or that the contravention was due to the act or default of, that other person, that other person may be convicted of the offence, and, if the original accused person proves that he had used all due diligence to secure that the relevant provisions were complied with, he shall be acquitted of the offence.

(2) Without prejudice to subsection (1), in any such proceedings under this Act an accused person shall not allege that the trophy or trophies belong, or that the contravention of the relevant provisions was due, to some other person unless, before the end of two days from the commencement of the first hearing of the case, he gives to the prosecution notice of his intention to do so.

(3) Every notice given under subsection (2) shall be deemed to be void and of no effect unless it contains-

- (a) the name and address of that other person or, if the name or address is not known to the accused person at the time he gives the notice, any information in his possession which might be of material assistance in finding that other person;

N if the name or the address is not included in that notice, the court is satisfied that the accusal person, before giving the notice, took and thereafter continued to take all reasonable steps to secure that the name or address would be ascertained;

(c) if the name or address is not included in that notice, but the accused person subsequently discovers the name or address or receives other information which might be of material assistance in finding the other person, he forthwith gives notice of the name, address or other information, as the case may be; and

(d) if the accused person is notified by or on behalf of the prosecution that other person has not been traced by the name or at the address given, he forthwith gives notice of any such information which is then in his possession, or, on, subsequently receiving any such information forthwith gives notice of it.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the fact that an accused person has not been admitted to bail shall not be a defence for his failure to provide to the prosecution, the correct name or address of that other person or any information which may be of material assistance in finding that other person.

(5) Where an accused person seeks to avail himself of subsection (1)-

(a) if the person he complains against or to whom he alleges the trophy or trophies belong is not present at the time appointed for the hearing the court shall proceed with the hearing of the case against the accused person in the absence- of that other person.

(b) the; prosecution, as well as the person to whom the accused person alleges the trophy or trophies belong or whom he charges with the offence, may cross examine him, if. he gives evidence, and any witness called by him in support of the plea, and may rebut his evidence.

(6) Any evidence tendered by the prosecution to rebut the allegations of the accused made pursuant to subsection (1) may, subject to any directions by the court as to the time it is to be given, be given before or after evidence is given in support of the allegation."
